

Wednesday 20th June 2018, “A Woodbury Wander” with Chris Gooding

A small group gathered outside the Maltser’s Arms in Woodbury for our four mile walk to Woodbury Salterton via Watery lane and several local farms.

We had some far reaching views extending to Dartmoor.

Some local geese entertained us en route and we visited the parish church of Holy Trinity.

Some young calves nearly stopped some of our group from walking alongside them but Chris stood guard while the intrepid walked passed.

Thank you Chris for an interesting local walk in an area I haven’t visited before.
